COMPETITIONS

Relay | Friday 6 April

Map Scale: 1:10 000, e 5m

Map maker: Ábel Sulyok

Update: March 2018

Last map: Gánt Gém hegy

Terrain description: A flat plateau surrounded by steep hillsides. Some slopes are stony with small landforms (small depressions, pits, broken ground). Average density of paths. Vegetation is a mix of open, semi open and forested areas. Runnability is generally good, the open parts are really fast.

Winning times: same as EYOC

Long Distance | Saturday 7 April

Map Scale: 1:10 000, e 5m

Map maker: Ábel Sulyok

Update: March 2018

Last map: Öreg Kotló-hegy

Terrain description: Deciduous forest with many stones, steep valleys and some big climbs. Runnability is generally good. A typical route-choice terrain for this part of Hungary.

Winning times: same as EYOC

Face to Face | Saturday 7 April

Face to Face is an exciting format of orienteering with short, extremely fast paced courses (< 1 min). The course will be on a symmetrical matrix, two runners start at the same time, running the same mirrored course against each other.

There will be a free time trial for 1 hour, after that each team chooses its two champions (1 girl and 1 boy) who will represent the country in the big showdown for great prizes. More information to be provided in bulletin 2.

Middle Distance | Sunday 8 April

Map Scale: 1:10 000, e 5m

Map maker: Ábel Sulyok

Update: March 2018

Last map: Öreg Kotló-hegy

Terrain description: Deciduous forest with many stones, steep valleys and some big climbs. Runnability is generally good.

Winning times: 25 minutes for all CEYOC classes
